EXPECTATIONS

- Supervisors are expected to meet with the student periodically throughout the course to monitor the progression of the research. It is important that supervisor and student come up with a timeline that enables completion of the research within the academic session.
- Supervisors must provide students with meaningful feedback before the last day to drop a course without academic penalty.
- The supervisor must submit the student's final grade to the Undergraduate Advisor and Program Manager, so they can submit it to eMarks. They will send out information regarding the deadline for submission of the grade when FAS sends out eMarks information.

Note to students: Written permission of your supervisor is required if you intend to publish any of the results from your independent research project.
